Control of board shifts as 3 members lose

Most Granite City School Board incumbents were grim-faced Tuesday as they watched the election results slowly fill two large chalk boards positioned in the front of the district's board room.

When the totals were added about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, three of the four incumbents present had lost their board seats. The defeated included President Donald Stucke, Secretary George Moore and member Robert Maxwell. Together, they represented more than 38 years on the board.

EVEN INCUMBENT E. Dewey Melton was hesitant to claim victory until all the results were tabulated. He credited vigorous campaigning as the sole explanation for surviving the election upset.

WINNING TEAM at Ervy's Restaurant on Pontoon Road, political newcomer Kelly Hogan, the over-whelmingly voter favorite, and successful incumbent David Partney, were saluting the voice of the people and cheering that night.

Newly-elected board members

Alan Crider and Ruth Lahr, who will serve two-year terms on the board, joined in the celebration at Ervy's.

"I think it's a rebirth," Hogan said, referring to the financial condition of the district. Stucke said, prior to the final count at the school district office. He cited the long board life of himself and Moore, and said their particular defeats showed the voters felt it was time for a change.

"I'M SURPRISED" at the turnaround, Stucke said. "I'm disappointed people weren't behind our efforts to reduce the budget, reduce the tax rate and the board's overall cost to the taxpayers."

Hogan was pleased with the higher than normal voter turnout, if not with the results. "It appears they want a new board. For what ever reason, I don't know," he said. "It might be a general accumulation of things."

In recent years, the board had voted close nine schools, had cut its teaching force by more than 100 positions and had fought a mounting district debt.

MOORE EXPECTED a close race but was surprised at the strength of the two-year term winners, Mrs. Lahr and Crider, both former teachers in the Granite City school system.

Former board member Monroe Moore, the longest-serving member, was among the group of about 40 gathered at the board office waiting for district administrators to call in poll results, then feed into a school computer for ongoing count printouts.

"Every year, someone always seems to be a runaway candidate. This year it's Dewey Melton, it was me," Worthen said.

THE LEADERSHIP of Worthen was touched upon at Hogan's victory celebration, which was visited by winners Partney, Crider and Mrs. Lahr. According to Hogan, the majority of the current board members have voted as a block in the past, with Worthen at the helm.

"I don't like one-man control...no matter what direction it comes from," Hogan said. "I see no problem with Dewey Melton (as mayor), if Monroe works with us. He can be a good accumulation of things."

Hogan emphasized his own intentions to work with an independent board member. He said his name has been linked with other candidates, but he ran alone in this race.

"I wasn't tied to any political machine," he said. The candidate said his support came from the grass-roots level.

HOGAN PLANS to target debt reduction as his main board objective.

"I'm mainly looking at the $8 million deficit. We can leave the education of the kids to the teachers."

He predicted that within four years that the new board will be very close to a break-even budget.

"We have the teachers, taxpayers and a very strong, positive board to help oversee the debt."

Partney said he will seek a budget meeting between the school board and the district's accounting firm. In the past, administrators have handled talks with the firm.

THE BUDGET still carries some fat that could be trimmed in certain areas, Hogan said. He believes, however, the district has cut as low as it can on the number of teachers and administrative employees.

Financial redemption for the district might lay in the sale of school buildings and properties, Hogan said. "Possibly several million dollars could be saved," he noted.

Mrs. Lahr, who retired from the Granite City school district this year, said she was not surprised at

*I don't like one-man control'
—Kelly Hogan*

her victory over the incumbents Moore and Stucke, and did not know why the voters had made her their choice. She did not know who the next director was or wants the board to take without first holding a preliminary meeting with the new board.

NEITHER was Crider, a junior high school teacher in St. Louis County and founder of section of the Granite City School District, surprised by his victory. He said when he talked to voters during his campaign, he found a general dissatisfaction among them with how the district was being managed.

"The monetary problem was the real issue," Crider said, summing up the race.

Vote totals and additional details on other races appear elsewhere in today's Press-Record.

Jacket saves life

It was cool outdoors early Wednesday morning and Raymond Paul Sturtevant of Granite City, a security guard, was wearing a jacket over a vest and his uniform shirt. The amount of padding provided by the clothing had saved his life, as a bullet first hit him failed to penetrate the jacket.

Sturtevant suffered bruises and abrasions to the left side of the body when he was shot while walking between two buildings at Taracorp, Inc., 16th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, at 12:35 a.m. Wednesday.

After the incident, another plant guard called police who arrived to find Sturtevant in the guards' shack holding his side. He was making his rounds of the plant, punching time clocks, when he heard a gunshot, he told police.

The injured man said the person who fired the shot was about three feet from him at the time.

Sturtevant is employed by Executive Protection Service, Inc., St. Louis.

He told police.

Quad-City area families and individuals wishing to apply for Christmas baskets and related aid through the Salvation Army may do so in person starting Monday, Nov. 14, at the Salvation Army Corps Center, 3007 E. 23rd St.

Captain LaVern Poling, Salvation Army commander, said hours at the office for accepting basket applications will be from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

THE NUMBER of days to apply for Christmas aid has again been extended this year, and applications will continue to be taken at the office through Dec. 9, Capt. Poling said.

Those seeking assistance are required to bring adequate identification, a paid utility (electric service) bill or similar receipt showing the current address of the applicant, or a recent rent receipt, and proof of income, such as a Public Aid green card, if served by that agency.

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS can be made to help applicants who are handicapped or unable to travel to the office by calling Mrs. Maxine Rutner, office coordinator, at 451-7957; or a family member may come to the office with the appropriate information.

Food baskets, clothing and other Christmas donation gifts to Quad-City area families in need of help are financed through the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights campaign.

THIS YEAR'S campaign goal will be announced when the drive is launched later this month. Last year, a total of $33,000 was sought to aid the campaign.

Last November and December, with unemployment at an all-time high at that point, a record breaking total of 1,106 families requested assistance through the Salvation Army program.

Incumbents win BAC voting

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Amasa Dintemann, 16,388 and 16,037 votes, respectively, Robert Dintemann and Patricia Bartoskas won new six-year terms Tuesday as trustees of Bellview Area College District 522.

Mrs. Bartoskas has been chairman of the board for the past two years. Dintemann was chairman for the preceding two and a half years.

THE CAMPAIGN centered around the board's budget balancing approach favored by many of the faculty members. Richard Hunnsaker garnered 11,533 votes and Gerfen received 11,312. There were two positions to be decided.

Biggest turnout in the multicounty Bellview election was in Madison County. Dintemann received 7,758 and 4,832 in those two counties. Mrs. Bartoskas 7,388 and 5,127, Hunnsaker 6,209 and 3,751 and Mrs. Gerfen 5,872 and 3,905.

MADISON COUNTY totals were described as particularly impressive, since much of this county is in the Lewis and Clark District based at Godfrey.

Turnout in the Bellview election was turned in at the Granite City Township Building, one of four regional centers in Madison County. Dintemann received 3,062 votes,

Tender care for spent nuclear fuel shipments

The state has updated its plan to coordinate emergency response activities in the event of an accident involving spent nuclear fuel shipments in Illinois. About 500 such shipments cross Illinois borders yearly.

"While the safety record of these shipments is excellent and without parallel, a recent increase in the number of such shipments has prompted us to take every possible measure against any threat to public health and safety in the unlikely event of a mishap," Gov. James R. Thompson said.

The Illinois Plan for Radiological Accidents was developed by the Department of Nuclear Safety. It outlines steps for several state, federal and local government agencies to follow in the event of nuclear shipment accidents, details preparation measures and spells out inspection regulations.

Department nuclear scientists and engineers will coordinate actions under the plan to assess the degree of threat to public health.

Other state agencies that will take part include the Emergency Services and Disaster Agency, Illinois State Police, Department of Transportation, Commerce Commission and Toll Highway Authority.

The plan was drafted to add to a series of public safety steps being taken because of the upsurge in spent fuel shipments in Illinois.

The governor and Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan recently asked the federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission to strengthen inspections of spent fuel sites.

On the state level, Thompson has instructed Nuclear Safety Department technicians to inspect and escort each shipment traveling in Illinois. State police are under orders to escort all nuclear fuel shipments.

Nuclear Safety Director Don Etchison said the safety record for spent fuel shipments has been excellent, largely due to the many precautions taken because of the hazardous nature of the spent fuel rods.

"There has never been an accident in which the huge, specially designed casks used to transport the fuel have been breached, even though at least 5,000 such shipments have moved across the nation's highways over the past 20 years," he said.

Etchison noted that while most spent fuel shipments travel by truck, 30 shipments are scheduled to be shipped by railway from Nebraska to General Electric's storage facility in Morris. The exact details of all shipments are provided to officials on a need-to-know basis, but are not released to the public for security reasons, he said.

Study conducted about earthquakes

The damage and repercussions of a major midwest earthquake, the subject for a multi-state study being conducted by Russell and Axon, Inc., a St. Louis-based engineering and architectural firm. Sponsored by the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the study will focus on 70 locations in southeastern Missouri, southern Illinois and western Kentucky.

The project is under the overall supervision of Patrick J. Breheny, director of FEMA Region VII. Breheny, a geologist and engineer, said, "Even a moderate earthquake in the Midwest is a potential national disaster. The object of this study will be to provide an overall assessment of the potential destruction that would occur in the event of a repeat of the 1811 and 1812 earthquake."

The study is divided into two phases. The first phase is an inventory of critical facilities in each county. The second phase is a vulnerability analysis of the critical facilities. GCE, Inc. of St. Louis, Mo., structural engineers, and Fischer-Stetler and Associates, Inc. of Carbondale, Ill., an architectural firm, are assisting in the study.

Mike J. Bishop, executive vice-president of Russell and Axon and project manager said, "An earthquake is an unpredictable event. You can locate the central United States and the New Madrid Fault, but where one knows is when the event will occur. It could be anywhere along a zig-zag line from the northeastern

An officer found a jacket and wallet belonging to the victim not far from the dwelling, reports said.

Venice Advisory Council discusses computer uses

At the first Venice Vocational Advisory Council meeting of the 1983-84 school year, John Bush, principal of Venice schools, reported that six new TRS-80 microcomputers have been ordered, which will bring the total at the school to nine.

He also applauded the co-op students present, stating that they are in their second year as co-op students and include some of the top business and athletic students.

The council then viewed a filmstrip entitled "Educational Applications of Microcomputers." The finished film strip, "Shack," shows various ways microcomputers can be used in schools for the students and for management.

In other business, Paul Severian, representative of Illinois Bell, spoke to the group about the "Adopt a School" program that is being started at Venice. Severian said that Illinois Bell would help Venice Elementary school attendance, by offering mini-courses, help to start a school newspaper, to provide tutors and to set up field trips.

Severian stated that he will be meeting next week with Mrs. Athaea Cross and the Venice High School Class of 1984 to discuss a list of priorities for this program. Another of the goals of the program is to develop software for computerizing attendance records for the school.

Veterans' Day more vivid here

With the funeral tomorrow of Capt. Keith Lucas of Granite City, killed while airlifting Rangers onto the island of Grenada, Veterans' Day takes on a somber meaning in the Quad-City area.

We are happy Capt. Lucas is receiving the full military honors he deserves. The bugler, guard, rifle salutes and military courtesy should be as a reminder to all of us that many have given up more than just a few years of their lives to defend our freedom.

In Veterans' Day speech at Arlington National Cemetery today, Dennis A. Joyner, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, reminded us of the sacrifices made by so many. Joyner lost both legs and an arm in Vietnam.

"Oh yes, I would do it all over again. America is worth it. The ideals for which our country stands are worth it. American people — with their dedication to freedom and justice, honor and the rule of law — are most certainly worth it," he said.

"But we are particularly reminded on this November 11th that our fellow veterans are worth it. They're worth every bit of our loyalty and support. My fellow veterans — or all this nation's wars — are the strongest reason why I can say I'm proud I served my country. I'm proud to call myself a veteran."

In a joint resolution offered in the Illinois Senate by Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) the sacrifices of so many are honored. "The services performed by these millions of gallant Americans have demonstrated the unselfish willingness of our nation to meet the challenges of those wishing to subjugate individual determination through armed conflict."

"The nation and the free world are eternally grateful for the contributions of American veterans to the advancement of peace in the cause of an honorable world peace," the resolution reads.

Veterans' Day is a time for reflection. Locally, we have a great deal on which to reflect this particular Veterans Day.

Globe's closing unfortunate

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat announced Monday evening that it will print its final edition on Dec. 31, ending its 131-year daily publication. And despite numerous efforts by advertisers at the St. Louis daily newspapers from time to time, the news of the Globe-Democrat closing, came as a complete shock not only to its thousands of readers, but to its fellow journalists and employees as well.

The Globe has, for many years, been a respected news source in the Quad-City area, covering not only national news, but also singularly in its interest in the daily events occurring in the community. Its writers have been cooperative and friendly in their joint-coverage of events with Press-Record reporters. In fact, some former Press-Record employees later got jobs with the Globe-Democrat.

In a year of generally "good news" involving the nation's economic recovery, complete with lowered unemployment rates and plant reopenings, it is ironic that the medium used to report these "happy" stories would be making through recessions itself.

It seems the Globe will join the ranks of the daily papers that have folded in Washington, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Portland and Oregon over the past two years.

Wednesday's Globe spoke of a plan whereby the U.S. Justice Department will actively seek a buyer for the Globe within the next 60 days. As a fellow newspaper and as a community, we wish the Justice Department luck in the venture.

And we thank the Globe for its many contributions to the area and to the definition of fair journalism.

New faces on GC School Board

It was a most interesting election. Quad-Cityians in Tuesday's balloting rallied behind two Belleville Area College trustees who had been instrumental in creating the Granite City college center in the former North High School. The incumbents not only left here but gained re-election in mass-county District 522 by a decisive margin, 16,000 to 11,000.

Local voters also showed confidence in policies of the Madison and Venice elementary-secondary education boards, re-electing five Madisonians and four Venice board members.

Citizen dissatisfaction was evident in the Granite City School Board election, with attendance clapping and nearly 200 staff dismissals in the summer of 1983. Such major cutbacks and a teachers' wage freeze, necessitated by lack of operating funds, caused much concern among employees and the public.

Action by the board just before the election in restoration of full wages to some administrators whose pay had been cut 10 percent during the crisis was also viewed by some voters as a major issue.

The only victorious candidate backed by holdover members was Dewey Melton, who won a third term. Also re-elected was David Partney, who was not expected the favorite of some teachers, but nevertheless, worked cooperatively in the campaign with three individuals highly acceptable to the teacher federation, Kelly Hogan, Alan Crider and Ruth Lahr.

Hogan was clearly the voters' favorite in this election and we are sure he will do a good job on the board.

A few administrators view the election outcome as possibly disastrous to their future. We urge the new board to allow a period of time for acquaintanceship, dialogue and information exchanges, rather than adopting an immediate confrontational approach.

New faces around the board table may bring new ideas leading to solution of problems. We earnestly hope so.

The system obviously won't be able to expand its staff, grant general pay raises, balance the budget, modernize schools and equipment, retire millions of dollars of debt and limit taxation — performing all or most of these feats simultaneously — unless there is continued improvement in the economic health of Illinois and this community.

Fortunately, all who were elected realize their task will require maximum effort and enlightenment. We wish them well.

A survey made today of beer parlors in the Tri-Cities revealed that there were 12 less in operation now than there were prior to Nov. 1, when the first state-wide license expired. With the exception of one, all that closed their doors were located in Granite City.

When the 3.2 beer was legalized, there was a rush for permits and 122 retail licenses were sold in the four local cities.

Chief of Police John Tappel said today that most of the loss in licenses here was due to drug stores failing to renew them. He said that druggists told him there was no profit in dispensing beer in pharmacies.

A note of optimism on acquiring the McKinley Bridge was sounded at Friday night's Venice City council meeting by Mayor John E. Lee, who said during the meeting that "I don't think it's too far off."

All arrangements had been made for the city to take control of the bridge on Wednesday, Oct. 22, but the Interstate Commerce Commission intervened the previous day, delaying the transaction until severance arrangements for affected ITR employees are revised.

No agreement with the employees has been reached, but ITR has offered to follow either the Oklahoma or Burlington severance agreements, whichever is preferred by the ICC.

In a surprise announcement Tuesday morning, Miss Eulalia M. Holtz, incumbent Democratic Madison County clerk since 1942, announced she will retire when her current term expires on the first Monday of December, 1974.

"At the end of this term I will be 66 years old and I want some time out to have some fun," Miss Holtz said during a press conference in Edwardsville.

She announced her support of Miss Evelyn Bowles, her present chief deputy, to succeed her, "because I feel she has the expertise and ability to continue the good service for which this office is known."

Says GC police deserve retroactive raises

To the Editor:

I sincerely believe that the Granite City police well deserve the promised, overdue pay raise. The city claims they don't have the money now. Well, I say, why not grant the policemen their raise now (retroactively) and give it to them as soon as funds become available.

They're doing a great job and should be justly compensated for their services. Let's get with it city fathers."

Local boxers need larger practice facility

To the Editor,

As a former assistant coach to Mercie Mendoza, I would like to thank the Press-Record for the fine and timely coverage of the Mexican Honorary Commission Boxing Club.

However, in your most recent article there was no mention of the cooperation we received from the personnel of the Army Depot. The first workouts began at the base gymnasium.

Due to the large turnout, it soon became necessary to switch to one of the empty warehouses. The warehouse was roomy, even large enough to jog in, but very cold and the lighting was barely adequate.

I was impressed by the desire the 15 or so young men had to continue training under adverse conditions.

The cold weather finally became unbearable so Mercie was able to obtain the present quarters at the Lincoln Community Center.

We will always be thankful for the Army Depot's past cooperation, along with Ruben Mendoza's efforts in getting the club its start. We are just as grateful for the park district's present services.

But my main reason for writing is that the club could use larger training facilities. Several times during sparing sessions the boxers have to be interrupted for fear they will be interrupted for fear they will injury themselves along the cement walls.

A few years ago, the club purchased a boxing ring. However, there is not enough room at the center to set it up. With the buildings still idle in the area, it would seem that a larger facility could be obtained. Some type of arrangement could be made with the club to utilize that empty space.

It would certainly be advantageous for the boxers to work out in a ring and allow them to better prepare themselves before each fight.

Feels handgun controls jeopardize freedom

To the Editor,

Where does Ms. Lautman (of Handgun Control, Inc. Nov. 3 article) get off saying that we are Lee Harvey Oswalds? We are the ones who are the last bastion of freedom in this country.

in a free country, where we all have the freedom to choose.

Just because several million of us have chosen to become hunters and sportsmen, we should not be condemned. We abide by the rules. As long as we abide by the rules, we should be able to do what we want, providing the price is right. I don't mean in regard to human lives. No one just goes knocking people off, 1-2-3, just because they exist. Even a criminal gives a degree of thought, good or bad, before committing his act.

Perhaps Ms. Lautman should think about her act. If she is giving a history lesson, she needs to go a bit further. Fighting for what people believe in is what made this country strong. Thanks to our forefathers who set the groundwork, we've been able to keep our freedoms in this country, with some modifying, perhaps, but we have them. If it wasn't for the Colonists' belief in God, we would not have anything, for faith got them through their hardships. And by our faith, we will endure any way we can.

If a person doesn't like living here, where we have our freedoms, they are free to leave elsewhere else, like Russia, where when you scream for help, the military just look at you, while he's watching the torture being done to you.

If you think there's been a lot of bloodshed put upon our people, go over there. I bet you'll really see Personally, I like it here, knowing our country is still the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave. Thank God for the strength!

Alarm supervisor's alarm business starts rumors

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Mike Macek, cable alarm superintendent and fire chief of Madison, is opening his own private business in Madison and the type of business has started some rumors flying.

Macek said he is aware of the rumors caused by his new business being related to cable systems, but denied that he intends to use his connections with the city administration for his own gain.

THE NEW BUSINESS, Metro-East Telephone Alarm & Cable Service, M.L. Macek Co., is located at Fourth Street and Madison Avenue in Madison.

"I know that when the signs went up, there would be trouble," Macek told the Press-Record.

The day the business name was painted on the windows of the building, Macek submitted his resignation from the city alarm superintendent. Subsequently, he withdrew the resignation, saying it will be up to the city council to decide how much of his time the city requires.

HE DENIED, rumors that Macek had sold his St. Louis alarm business, "He (Salesman) doesn't have anything to do with it. I'm the sole owner of it," Macek said, noting the business is a sole proprietorship and he borrowed money to get it started.

He also said the business is to serve the entire St. Louis Metropolitan region, not just Madison, and his work in Madison will be limited, because of the possible conflict with his job. "I won't do any work in Madison with alarms," Macek said. He said the business may sell alarm boards or other equipment for anyone who wants to put in his own alarm system, but he will not install or connect the alarms. He will, however, wire homes for telephones or cable TV in the city.

He describes the business as three-fold — the most complete telephone sales center in the area with service on phones, prewiring homes under construction for alarms, telephone and cable TV, and putting alarms in homes outside of Madison.

It started with the idea of fulfilling a need once the breakup of the Bell Telephone network is completed. "Bell is getting out. I thought it was time for me to get into it," he said.

Macek said he has long been a dream of the city administration in Madison, but Macek said he is not planning, at this time, to try and be the company which offers it to the city. He is not ruling it out in the future, he says. "Now, there are no thoughts of it, but if it ever came up, I'd be a fool not to do something."

He agreed that it might not be popular to some for him to get into the cable TV business, since city officials were spent training him in cable TV and transporting him and others to Florida and other areas of serving cable TV.

With the defeat of the home rule amendment in Madison in the early spring, Macek said he has been given the authority to start his own cable TV system, although it already had the cable, designed both for cable TV and for burglar alarms. The cable subsequently has been put up and is in use for alarms in some areas.

It is possible that a private cable TV system could be hired to provide the service using the city's existing cables. Macek said he does not have enough money to buy all of the equipment that would be necessary to set up a cable TV head-in system.

ANOTHER LOCATION for the business outside of Madison was considered, but the rent turned out to be four times what the rent in Madison is, so he decided to open in Madison. "It's a good location and just a block from my home," he said.

Macek said he hopes to open his new business the Friday after Thanksgiving. His role with the city is likely to diminish after that time, but he says he does not intend to entirely cut out of city service and will be available to assist the city for as long as he is needed.

Hogan wins 29 of 54 precincts

Kelly Hogan, a local contractor and Ainside Shriners officer, captured 29 precincts and tied for the lead at another as he led voting in the Granite City School Board election Tuesday.

A total of 54 precincts attracted District Nine school board votes - 37 in Granite City, 10 in Nameoki Township, four in Chouteau Township, and three in Venice Township.

Hogan received 3,704 votes. Incumbent David Partney garnered 3,049 and Incumbent Dewey Melton received 2,614 to earn four-year terms on the Board of Education.

Their defeaters were Kenneth Davis, 2,926; Incumbent Paul Maxwell, 2,909; and Donald Gargac, 1,987.

Two-year terms were won by Mrs. Ruth Lahr, 2,341, and Alan Crider, 2,326. They beat incumbent George Scholebo Sr., 2,105; Incumbent Donald Stucke, 1,960, and Robert Braundmeier, 1,877.

With Hogan leading at 29 polling places, Melton and Partney captured seven each, Mrs. Lahr, Maxwell and Braundmeier two each, and Gargac one precinct each.

More, Stucke and Crider failed to lead outright at any precinct, but Melton and Stucke tied with Melton for the lead at one polling place.

There were two other ties, Melton and Maxwell at one, and Hogan and Partney at another.

The pattern of strong showings by Hogan and Partney for long terms and Melton and Crider for short terms became apparent again from the start of the vote counting at a computer set up at the Granite City Township Building.

Although not running as a team, they shared some expenses and challenges. They beat Melton and Hogan and Crider, and it became obvious that Mrs. Lahr also was receiving much of the same support.

Moore stayed in contention for one of the seats until the last of the several precincts had been tallied. He finished 22 behind Crider.

For a four-year term, Davis was in third place for awhile behind Hogan and Partney, but Melton then drew even with Davis and began to build a lead that ended at 318.

The board will reorganize at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Sewer board holds up plan

Members of the Madison County Board's special sanitary sewer committee put a hold on a plan last night which would have allowed Ricemann Enterprises to build a sanitary sewer extension to the company.

The company, which is located north of West Chain of Rocks Road and west of Route 100, said it would pay $1,000 per linear foot of the extension line in return for being named the owner and operator of the line.

The project would be an extension of the sewer system to serve private homes in the area west of the village of Chain of Rocks Road. The sewer line would have to hook to the county sewer line at the manhole in front of the Skelly Station, where the county line now ends. Ricemann's sanitary sewer line would extend 844 feet to the west, so his building could hook on.

The plans already have been drawn up by Shepard, Morgan and Schwart, Inc., and engineered by John Hales.

Douglas Niles, representative of Ricemann Enterprises, said the company is anxious to link onto the Madison County sewer system before winter weather arrives.

"Once we're talking next spring by the time you have to hook to the district," he said.

Niles explained the reason the company is requesting that it be the owner and operator is so that the company might recoup some of the money it spent in engineering and charging other users on the private line. "This pipeline will be costing the company about $21,000 and we'd like to be able to get some of this money back."

However, there is only one other business in the area presently that could tap onto the Ricemann line.

Board Chairman Morris Miles said he feels the company could negotiate a payment agreement with the county to allow the company to connect to the sewer line and then come back to the board. He believes it is the consensus of the board that the building permit will be approved if an agreement can be worked out so that the county is the owner of the line. "We'll be happy to work out an agreement and an agreement is worked out before our next scheduled meeting. We understand you are under a time element and we want to cooperate with you."

In other business, the board approved hiring Tom Chura, engineer for Fountain Construction, to do the engineering work for the Madison County Development in Pontoon Beach.

Chura appeared at the meeting and presented grading and preliminary sewer plans to the board for their study.

National Reye's Syndrome Week calls for awareness

The flu or various symptoms identified as influenza occur more frequently during the winter months. Influenza is a viral infection and warrants special attention because a fatal disease is associated with it. The disease, Reye's Syndrome, affects children between the ages of adolescence and can develop three to five days after the chickenpox, an upper respiratory illness or other viral infections. It affects the liver and brain; is non-contagious and is often misdiagnosed as encephalitis, meningitis, diabetes, poisoning, drug overdose or sudden infant death syndrome.

During National Reye's Syndrome Week, Nov. 7 to 13, awareness of the disease will be increased. If a viral infection has seemingly run its course and the child is feeling better, the following symptoms should be treated as serious and as possibly the first indication of Reye's Syndrome. Anti-nauseant medication may be used to help control the disease and, because of the possible association of aspirin with Reye's Syndrome, parents should consult their physician before using these drugs.

The symptoms usually occur in this order: persistent or continuous vomiting, listlessness (loss of pep and energy), drowsiness, personality change such as irritability, comativeness or slurred speech.

Air Force friends meet after 39 years

Ed Glazik, 3709 Fair Oaks Drive, recently was reunited with George W. Gering III of Snow Hill, Md., a companion of his during World War II. The two had not seen each other for 39 years.

During the war, Glazik and Gering were stationed together in Walla Walla, Wash. They later served in the Eighth Air Force and saw action together in Norwich, England. Glazik was the pilot, the plane and Gering was the bombardier.

"They were great friends during the war, but afterwards, my husband and I lost touch with the Gering's," said Mrs. Evelyn Glazik. "We were both busy with traveling and our children but they were still very close to us in our thoughts."

Mrs. Glazik said she and her husband were surprised recently when they received a call from Gering.

"He said he knew we had settled in the Granite City area, so he called for information, one day and got our number."

She said Gering also had contacted another Air Force comrade.

"He said this man was not able to come to Granite City for a reunion."

"We had a lot of fun reminiscing with the Gering's. We hope to visit them in Maryland next fall."

Glozlik is a drafting engineer for Ford Hotel Supply in St. Louis. Gering is a retired colonel from the Air Force.

If you're not a turkey, here are some Thanksgiving survival tips

By VIRGINIA HILL
State Nutrition Council

How blessed we are today in company with the pilgrims and the first Thanksgiving. It is important that we realize that they were celebrating a plentiful harvest that would keep them from starving, and today our biggest problem is overeating.

Turkey, stuffing, potatoes and gravy, baked vegetables, hot rolls and bread with butter, jams and jellies, pies and puddings are all traditional "Turkey Day" foods.

One day of feasting and overeating is probably not harmful if I know that without all these rich foods, my family would not consider our Thanksgiving celebration traditional.

In order to ensure that Thanksgiving is safe and healthy, here are a few tips to follow when working with a "dead bird."

Economically, it is better to buy a larger turkey since they generally are cheaper per pound and are usually meatier.

If you purchase a fresh turkey, remember to cool and freeze, or refrigerate and use within 1-2 days.

If you purchase a frozen, unstuffed turkey, keep it wrapped and thaw in the refrigerator. The thawing process takes from 1-4 days depending on the size of the bird. Once thawed, remove the giblets, refrigerate immediately, and cook within a few hours.

Do not thaw commercially frozen stuffed poultry. It should be cooked frozen, never thawed.

To avoid the possibility of food contamination, the turkey should not be stuffed until just before it is roasted.

When storing leftovers, remember to get them into the refrigerator as soon as possible to avoid food contamination. It is important to let food sit at room temperature as long as possible. Before refrigerating, remove all stuffing from the bird and store separately. And remember, the smaller the container, the quicker the food will cool thoroughly.

If your conscience troubles you about being a glutton, a few calorie-saving tips may be in order.

You could remove the skin of the turkey before eating, use skim milk and less butter in many recipes and use more fruits (orange or grapefruit) instead of so much sugar in candied sweet potatoes, and use more herbs and less salt to season.

To avoid overeating and that stuffed feeling, take smaller portions, eat slowly and stop when working with a "dead bird."

Local students can study abroad

Qualified high school students are being invited to apply for the opportunity to spend an academic year or six week summer family stay in Sweden. Demand a free catalog from Finland, Germany, Great Britain or Switzerland as part of the American Scandinavian Student Exchange (ASSE) program.

Students 15 to 18 years old are selected on the basis of good academic record, excellent character references, school recommendations and a strong desire to experience life with a volunteer European host family.

"At least one member of the carefully screened and selected host family will speak fluent English," said Warren Clague, Midwest director for ASSE. Year students are provided language and cultural instruction in their host country as part of the ASSE program.

The American ASSE is affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education and has been officially designated by the U.S. Information Agency as an official exchange student program.

The ASSE exchange program enables qualified teenagers to live and study and learn from European cultures other than their own.

Students interested in receiving more information about the cultural and educational advantages of participating in the ASSE program and living and studying in Europe may contact Cleo Monceski, 109 Walnut St., Kewanee, Ill., 61443, or phone 1-309-656-5896.

Dixon assured of hearing on energy severance taxes

U.S. Sen. Alan J. Dixon (D-Ill.) has received assurance of a hearing on his bill to limit the power of states to impose severance taxes on coal, oil and natural gas.

After offering the bill as an amendment to the debt limit bill,

Dixon withdrew his proposal in exchange for a promise that a hearing will be held on the issue before the Senate Finance Committee after the first of the year.

"I am delighted that a full hearing will take place on an issue that's of importance not only to Illinois consumers but also to energy consumers in any state that doesn't produce great amounts of coal, oil or natural gas," Dixon said.

"Severance taxes raise a major part of revenue in a small number of resource-rich states, and all the rest of us foot the bill," Dixon said.

"Illinoisans pay higher prices for energy because of the severance taxes added on in the producing states."

"In short, we subsidize schools highways and public buildings in those states, while still having to pay for our schools, roads and other public needs."

Energy resources are a national resource, Dixon said, and now-unrestricted severance taxes should be limited because they undermine the free flow of trade among the 50 states.

Granite Cityan survives duty in Grenadian invasion

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Although one Granite City resident, Army Captain Keith Lissie, was fatally wounded in the United States' recent invasion of Grenada, another former resident of Granite City survived his mission to the island.

Air Force Captain Peter R. Schocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin E. Schocker of 2206 Waterman Ave., was involved in flying the casualties out of Grenada during the invasion.

SCHOCKER, 32, who piloted a Lockheed C-41A Staff Transport and his nine-member crew of the 31st Aeromedical Squadron, were the first medical team in Grenada to bring patients out.

"On Sunday night, Oct. 23, the same day of the Belair invasion, my squadron was put on alert," said

Schocker. "We took off on Monday and flew down to Barbados which is a small island to the north of Grenada. We were there (Barbados) overnight and about mid-morning on the 25th, we landed at the airport in Salinas, Grenada."

"We picked up 19 litter patients (those who were unable to walk), ambulatory patients (those wounded but who were able to board the plane under their own power) and two dead soldiers."

SCHOCKER SAID he could not say whether or not one of the casualties required to be gurneyed to the C-41. Lissie, "I really can't be sure who any of the patients were. All I really know is that most of them were Army personnel. I didn't recognize any of them."

After the pick-up, which took about two and one-half hours, Schocker said the more critical patients were taken to Roosevelt Roads Hospital in Puerto Rico and the other patients were transported to Pope Air Force Base in North Carolina.

"There was a lot of tension down there. No one was joking around. We saw a lot of action. There were really helping down there, but our plane was never fired upon. People were there to do their job. We wanted to get done and then get the patients to safety."

"WE SAW CUBAN prisoners when we were down there. And we saw American agents, although we did not transport them ourselves. They were getting ready to board another plane."

"But all in all, the mission was very interesting and the crew was very eager to do its job. We were doing what we were trained for, only this time it was for real."

Schocker said the film clip on Schocker said the patients aboard the plane sent him a crew letter of gratitude for their rescue efforts. "It was nice to be appreciated," he said.

SCHOCKER'S FATHER said he did not know anything about his son's mission to Grenada until he heard about aeromedical crews rescuing injured soldiers fromeward and southward. About 100 pilots from North Carolina serving rescue missions in Grenada on the television, so called my son. When I called him, he said he had just gotten back from a 38-hour flight to and from Grenada; he said, "I'm too tired to talk right now."

"We had no idea that he would be flying a mission to Grenada because the whole thing was top secret. He doesn't even tell his wife where or when he's going when he flies these types of missions."

"When I saw the film clip on television I was worried, because you never know what's going to happen with that kind of thing. Peter said he was worried too."

SCHOCKER IS A 1969 graduate of Granite City High School. He then went to the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., and graduated in 1974.

He currently is stationed with the 41st Military Airlift Command in Charleston, S.C. He and his wife, the former Karen Lazich, were married on Jan. 2, 1980. They are the parents of one son, Jason, seven months old.

Before serving with the aeromedical unit, Schocker served as a pilot instructor for the T-38 airplane, the plane the Thunderbirds fly.

Police commissioners to study performance of Madison officers

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

The performance of Madison police is still under scrutiny and is unsatisfactory to Mayor Mike Sasyk, who, after reading the report submitted by Chief of Police Don Bridick, requested the aldermen to provide him with a copy of the report to be given to the Police Commissioners for recommendation and evaluation to improve the work performance of the department.

The first discolor between the mayor and police officers, in relation to their work performance, was at the Sept. 13 meeting when Mayor Sasyk ordered a panel of departmental members to list five officers who did not make one traffic arrest during the month of August.

According to a report distributed at that meeting, five traffic arrests for the month of October were registered as follows: the chief of police one; Lieutenant William Papa, six and seven days vacation; Sergeant Paul Pfeifer, one; Sergeant Norris Horton, two; Sergeant Charles Bridick, one; Detective Sergeant Paul Bargiel, two; Patrolman Tom Voloski, three; Patrolman William Winter, 10; Patrolman Gary Marzella, four, and Patrolman Richard Asperger, 13, and eight days vacation.

The police report listed $1,823 collected fines for traffic and no increase or decrease in crime in October 1983 as compared to the same month the previous year.

The aldermen approved the hiring of Mark Rhoads and Gene Robertson Jr., as cadet firemen for the volunteer fire department.

In other business, the Illinois Department of Transportation has directed the city to immediately remove the traffic signals at Bissell Street and Route 3, since the reconstruction of the underpass now is completed. There will be stationary stop signs erected at the temporary locations to replace the signal lights, according to the communication.

A letter was read from Amvets Commander Vasil Gravil of Post 204 noting the post will conduct special services on Friday.

The council members also voted to award a contract to Charles D.

Second child for former Laura Massie

Estelle Massie of Granite City is announcing the birth of grandson, Jay Sidney Massie, to her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goldberg of Highland Park, Ill.

Mrs. Goldberg is the former Laura Massie of Granite City. The couple have a daughter, Merrin Paige.

Jay was born Nov. 1, 1983, at Evanston Hospital, Evanston, Ill., and weighed 8 pounds, 9 ounces at birth. The child was named after his grandfather, the late Dr. Sidney Massie.

Other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Norton Goldberg of Chicago. Great-grandmother is Sara Schermer of Chesterfield, Mo.

Veteran's Day, at the David Connole Alpine Shopping Mall beginning at 11 a.m.

The city council members voted to refuse to pay a settlement of $2,000 in a court case of Garrett Don Sanders against the city of Madison. Details were unavailable during the meeting.

Payment of bills for the weeks from Oct. 25 to Nov. 8 in the amount of $42,434, were approved by the aldermen for payment.

The council members also voted to award a contract to Charles D.

Lioness Club presents directory

The Pontoon Beach Lioness Club has presented the United Way with a copy of the Illinois Directory of Services for the Visually Impaired. The Lioness Clubs of Illinois donated the funds for the directories to be produced. Each club that donated $100 or more received a complimentary copy.

The Illinois Directory of Services for the Visually Impaired is the third edition, revised and updated book. This new edition incorporates numerous revisions and additions in a large type book with a concise and logical format.

Many new opportunities and services are available to the visually impaired, blind and deaf-blind. The directory is divided into service headings to facilitate the needed listing.

More than 10 million Americans have significant, uncorrectable visual impairment. More than 700,000 Americans are legally blind and the blind population of the United States adds 30,000 people to its numbers annually, according to a Lioness spokesman. Many of these people are in Illinois.

The directory is being published to fill a void. For visually impaired people in Illinois, the directory is designed to be an invaluable help in locating needed services, agencies, societies, parties, doctors, optometrists, orthamologists and family and friends of visually impaired persons.

The directory is broken down into 10 categories: rehabilitation, education, social services, organizations, aids and products, recreation, health, reading material and information, aging and deaf-blind. The Lions of Illinois Foundation also sends revisions and up-dates yearly to keep the directory current.

Anyone wishing a copy of the directory of services may stop by Stephens Excavating, 109 Westwood in Collinsville, Ill., the amount of $20,997 for production of the book consisting of combination concrete curb and gutters, sidewalk, driveway pavement and other miscellaneous items of construction on Alton, Highland and McCampbell, and avenue between Market Street and Collingswood Avenue.

Bids rejected for work were from Redi-Cut Stone, Inc., Wood River, in the amount of $37,002; C. D. Peters Construction Co., Granite City, $37,797, and Carman Construction Co. of Alton, $44,896.

Soprano thrilling her GC friends, international audiences

By BILL WINTER
of The Press-Record

Her soprano voice is "silver and strong and it sings above the treble staff with uncommon ease and purity."

The words of praise were by the New York Times music critic, and the operatic voice being discussed was that of Granite City's Erie Mills, who will be featured in an appearance with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra Nov. 18 in St. Louis.

Aware that the young singer is winning international admiration, her family, the Quigleys and the remainder of the St. Louis metropolitan area are preparing to salute her accomplishments.

Major Paul Schuler of Granite City is preparing to designate Erie Mills Day next week, and citizens are invited to recognize her rapid progress in the music world.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Lula Mills of Granite City.

The 1971 Granite City High School graduate holds a bachelor of music degree from the College of Wooster (Ohio) and a master of music degree from the University of Illinois at Urbana (1977).

Although her beauty, singing talent, acting ability and stage presence have long been known of locally, much of the rest of the globe also is learning to appreciate her verve and versatility. Her travels and her varied repertoire continue to increase.

A performing artist's agents are supposed to be positive, of course, but the ICM Artists of the Josephson talent agency group (New York, Los Angeles, London, Paris and Rome) seem especially enthusiastic:

"In the last year and a half, Miss Mills has received attention with phenomenal triumphs and ecstatic critical acclaim."

"In August 1982 she sang at New York's Mostly Mozart Festival and performed on New York Times' 'Today' very well," said agent Michael T. Woolfert, director of the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, which will run the office.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony also will be attended by several members of the Japanese business community and the Osaka Chamber of Commerce. Following the opening, Illinois hosted a dinner and reception featuring foods native to the state. Illinois officials expressed hope that Osaka business community and all business leaders in Japan—Illinois' commitment to furthering relations with that country. Tomoji Tanaka, who will head the staff here, is a native of the Osaka area and has years of trade experience in Japan and America. No one could better represent Illinois' interests here," said Woelfert.

Another member of the Illinois group, State Senator Stanley Weaver said: "The opening of our office in Osaka is an aggressive step forward for the economic development of Illinois. Many Japanese companies recognize the mutual advantage of investing manufacturing facilities in Illinois. Our presence in Osaka will encourage Japanese firms to look at the state as a good place to locate, providing jobs for Illinois workers."

While other states have offices in Tokyo, Illinois is the only state represented in Osaka. In a few years, Illinois noted as a wise decision since several major industries, including the auto industry, are located in this, the country's second largest city.

The dinner and reception offered Illinois food products as well as a film about the state and tape recorded messages from Gov. James R. Thompson, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block and Illinois Sen. Charles Percy.

For dinner, served native wine, steak, pork chops, applesauce—unknown in Japan—corn on the cob, baked potatoes, fruit and cookies. After dinner, the Japanese guests received gift boxes with Illinois wine, cheese, honey, corn husk dolls and candy bars.

In his taped remarks Thompson said, "The Illinois office is the final step in establishing a mechanism for a full economic partnership between Illinois and Japan. This partnership will be strengthened further by new programs in the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs designed to increase the economic ties between Japan and Illinois."

Several Japanese business leaders who attended the dinner commented favorably on Illinois' presentation, noting especially that before they came to the state little about Illinois outside of Chicago.

The state of Illinois also operates offices in Brussels, Belgium, Sao Paulo, Brazil and Hong Kong.

Disturbance leads to GC man's arrest

Gerald D. Ishum, 27, of 1651 Spruce St., was arrested during the weekend and charged with battery and disorderly conduct, following an incident at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna Johnson, 2326 W. 24th St.

Barge traffic setting records through locks

Barge traffic on the Mississippi River between St. Louis continued its record-setting pace through the month of October.

Statistics released this week by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, St. Louis District, reflect daily, monthly and annual record amounts of cargo moving through Locks and Dam No. 26 at Alton and through Locks 27 at Granite City.

On Tuesday, Oct. 25, Locks 27 logged 448,800 tons—a new all-time record for one day. During the entire month of October, Locks and Dam 26 handled 1,358,100 tons—the first time this facility has ever exceeded eight million tons in a month.

Overall, the cumulative totals for the year 1983 are running 6.5 percent (at Locks 26) and 7.3 percent (at Granite City) ahead of previous record years.

The numbers of barges locked in (October (8,361) and in August (8,241) are quite close, but the cargo tonnages differ by 16 percent (8.0 versus 6.9 million tons) at Lock and Dam 26. This could seem like a relatively few empty or light-loaded barges on the move in October.

Lockmaster Jimmy Fogelholz at the Alton facility says grain is far more than 90 percent of current tonnages, with coal a distant second.

The heavy flow of tonnage does have its negative aspect. Barge tows transiting through Alton were delayed an average of 26 hours, more than double the 10½ hours averaged throughout last year, reflected by the one-foot lock chamber at Locks 26, which requires breaking a standard tow into two sections and cycling the lock twice per tow.

2 DUI charges

Driving while under the influence charges were filed by Granite City police against Donald K. Dummitt, 27, of 3801 Lake Drive and Terry P. O'Rourke, 37, St. Louis.

Dummitt allegedly drove a pickup truck loaded with garden pellets onto Nameoki Road at Edwards Street last week and then ran a red traffic light at Nameoki and Johnson roads. He was booked on those charges and on DUI after being halted by police in the south block of Nameoki.

O'Rourke, stopped by officers at Nameoki and Johnson hours later was charged with DUI and passing a red light at Nameoki and Jill Avenue.

BATTERY ALLEGED

Paul C. Parker, 49, of 1435 Madison Ave., arrested them during the week, was charged with battery, pleaded innocent in a court appearance Monday and was released on a $5,000 recognizance bond.

Township officials hear Ryan praise drug programs

Illinois Lt. Gov. George Ryan addressed the Association of Illinois Township Officials' committee on youth, meeting in conjunction with the 1983 Annual Educational Conference on the Township Officials of Illinois in Springfield recently. Numerous officials from Quad-City area townships were on hand for the conference.

He cited several alarming statistics demonstrating the magnitude of the substance abuse problem among youth. He said that since efforts to curb the supply of illegal drugs have been so limited, all but futile, more attention must be paid by civic leaders to the preventive approach to substance abuse.

Ryan called on all township officials to work in closer collaboration with parents, teachers and other concerned citizens in order to more effectively combat substance abuse in their communities.

The Township Officials Conference was held at the Springfield Hilton.

example of how community-based prevention programs can meet with success.

"This program is dedicated to informing you about the development of substance abuse before they are initiated into taking the first step," Ryan said. "It is able to harness the peer pressure that so often leads teens to abuse alcohol and drugs, and bring about precisely the opposite effect."

Ryan called on all township officials to work in closer collaboration with parents, teachers and other concerned citizens in order to more effectively combat substance abuse in their communities.

The Township Officials Conference was held at the Springfield Hilton.

ARREST MAN, 52, AFTER TIRE DAMAGE

Bill Kimpler, 52, of 2450 Cleveland Blvd., was arrested early this week and charged with criminal damage to auto, following an incident in which a neighbor alleged a tire on his four-wheel drive vehicle was damaged.

Frank Orris III, 2462 Cleveland, and son, Steve Kimpler, constructed the left rear tire on the vehicle, using some type of garden tool with a long handle, he told officers. Value of the tire was estimated at $85.

The two men had exchanged words earlier the same day over a lawn care incident. Orris told police, Kimpler was released after posting a $102 cash bond.

Warriors Hopeful

Cross country finals in Peoria this Saturday

By MIKE BARTLES
of the Press-Record

PEORIA — Saturday's trip here for the Granite City High School cross country team will be the last trek on what promises to be a season-long journey for the seven girls who have qualified for the state meet to be held at Detweller Park.

Last week, the girls' team, led by the fifth-place finish of sophomore Lori Wiser, finished third in the Springfield Sectional, qualifying for the state meet to be held on the Illinois River.

The boy's race, however, will be without a representative from Granite City. Jim Robertson will be closing out his high school career on Saturday, and will be hoping to do it in style. And Robertson's times on courses similar to that of Detweller have been comparable to any other runner in the state of Illinois.

Coach Pete Robinson is optimistic about the chances of his girls. Everyone is presently healthy except for Faye Patton who went home from school sick yesterday. Other than that, he is pleased with the way practice has been going.

"Dawn Young and Sheila Noel have made a lot of progress toward the last of the year," Robinson said. "Sheila Noel is improving too. She's been looking a lot stronger in practice. I believe we'll have a good night with Michelle [Shoemaker] like she was earlier in the year. If Michelle gets in the top 75, it will be a super race for her. But if she and Sheila both finish in the top 40, I'll be real happy." Earlier this season

Noel has been having health problems.

Coach Robinson is also very encouraged by not only the physical condition of his star runner, Lori Wiser, but with her mental preparedness.

"She's in a good frame of mind," he said. "Her chances to do well are real good. Lori has an advantage over some of the other runners. She went to state last year. She won't be away by all of the prep work and preparation that goes with state. You know, one of the perennial powers in Illinois brings seven or eight buses full of fans to the meet year in and year out."

Going into this race, Melissa Straza, a sophomore from Bloomington High School, will probably be the favorite to take home the state title. In the sectional last week in Springfield, Straza ran out to an early 25-yard lead and took the race handily, finishing 10 seconds ahead of the second place finisher and 12 seconds ahead of Wiser. Straza finished fourth last year.

But Straza won't be the only competition for Wiser. Pam Quarenghi who was defeated in their last two meetings, will be out for the title. Quarenghi finished second in the state meet last fall.

Running for the Warriors on Saturday will be Wiser, Shoemaker, Faye Patton, Kline, Young, Michelle Grabowski and Dawn Young. Robertson also anticipates the atmosphere of state won't affect Grabowski or Shoemaker. Both girls have competed in the state meet in Peoria two years ago.

The lone boy's entry for Granite City will be Robertson, a senior who has been running very smoothly. In the sectional meet a week ago, Robertson finished second behind senior Dave Egan from Chatham-Glenwood. Both runners qualified for the state meet as individuals. Egan finished the hilly course eight seconds ahead of Robertson.

"A lot of people think Egan is the best in the state," Robinson said. "I may run with him the entire race but I'm not afraid to pass him in the last half mile. This time he [Robertson] won't have time to hit that big hill twice. If he doesn't get carried away by the competition and try to get out too quick he'll do well."

The difference between the course at Springfield and the course at Detweller Park is one of contour. The Lincoln Park course is hilly with some long gradual hills and two exceptionally steep grades. On the other hand, the Peoria course is very flat. Last year, in the sectional, Robertson and Egan ran in separate races at the Jacksonville, Ill. course. Robinson noted that Jimmy's timed 14:33 was one second off of that run by Egan a week earlier, 14:32.

"I think Robertson is in great time at Jacksonville," Robinson said. "It's the same kind of course as the state meet. I don't think it's unrealistic to see Jimmy place in the top five and he could certainly win."

"He's got a lot of confidence now and Mike Baker [All-American cross country runner at Illinois State University] was helping Jimmy with some strategy and tactics to it."

"I think he's got a real good race coming up," Baker said.

"I think Jimmy might catch some of the northern schools with their pants down," the coach said. "We're expecting some really big things out of Jimmy. I really think he's able to do it."

Saturday will tell the story. Robinson feels his team has been working hard and hopes that hard work will pay off. He says that the rewards mean that much more.

"It's not worth working hard to get there. It doesn't mean very much when you do," Robinson said.

Starting time for the girl's race is scheduled for 11:15 a.m. and the PEORIA BOUND. Jim Robertson (left) and Lori Wiser (second from right), Granite City High School's top boys and girls cross country runners will compete in the state meet this Saturday at Peoria's Detweller Park. Robertson is the only Warrior boy making the trip while the entire Warrior girls' team has qualified. Standing with Robertson and Wiser are coaches Pete Robinson (left) and Joe Heffner.

Crane, Sheridan are All-Sectional

Two members of the Granite City High School soccer team — seniors Nathan Crane and Matt Sheridan were named to Edwardsville All-Sectional soccer team.

The Warriors won that sectional last Tuesday with a stunning victory over the host Panthers.

Crane, a midfielder, and Sheridan, a back for the Warriors, are among 11 athletes representing seven schools who were selected to the elite team. Both were members of last year's All-State champion sectionals.

In addition to the two Warriors, Collinsville's John Borri, senior MF, Tony Ellis, junior F, and Marc Mahan, senior MF; Roxana's Chris Owsley, senior MF, and Brian Klemm, senior G; Edwardsville's John Edwards, senior forward; Belleville East's Carlos Ramos, senior MF; Belleville Althoff's Rich Reigner, senior B, and Cahokia's Randy Tenholder, senior B, were named to the team by regional and sectional coaches.

For Sheridan it's the fourth such honor of the season. He's already been named to the Illinois All-State Team, the All-State Tournament Team and the first pick on the All-

Crane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Crane of Granite City. Sheridan, Crane's teammate and co-selection to the All-Sectional Team, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Sheridan of Granite City.

For Crane, being invited to the All-Sectional Team is another of many honors for the Warrior kicker. Warrior fans may remember that it was Crane who scored two goals in last year's state championship game to defeat New Trier and clinch the

YMCA, MHC boxers combine to win duo against St. Louis ring clubs

ST. LOUIS — Granite Cityans competing in last Friday's boxing action here weren't too successful when tallying the wins and losses, but they did gain some experience gained from those fights, the outing could be deemed a success.

Eleven boxers from both the Mexican Honorary Commission Boxing Club and the Tri-City Area YMCA Boxing Club were on hand to act. Friday night at the 71 Sportsman's Complex, But, as it to give indication of what was to come, things started off bad as two of the YMCA boxers defaulted because of injuries.

Victims of Bob Jones and Mike Harper were the two athletes who defaulted: Jones, a 145-pound novice boxer, was severely burned days before the fight, causing his default.

Harper, 26-year-old 178 pound novice boxer, also defaulted because of an ailing back.

Things continued to slide for the YMCA boxers as Leroy Sloan, Greg Talley and Jeff Niehaus lost their bouts.

Sloan, a 99-pound sub-novice boxer, had the decision to Cari Dreen of the ABC Boxing Club of St. Louis. Sloan, a 12 year old right hander, battled Krone nearly even through three rounds before the referees gave the decision in Dreen's favor, leaving Talley and Niehaus lost to two boxes of the North (St. Louis) County Boxing Club. Talley lost to Curtis Byrd while Tony Barrow got the upper hand against Niehaus.

It wasn't until Rich Plantz, a 135 pound 16 year old, took to the ring that the YMCA team tasted victory. Plantz, who had been knocked out of a second-round technical knock-out of North County's Kevin Buller.

"Rich is really coming around," said YMCA Coach John Beckovich. "He seems to be conditioned and his left is really working well for him."

The victory improved Plantz's record to 19-2.

For MHC, Granite City's other boxing club, things didn't go any better, although all of its boxers slanted to fight did see action.

"It was a rough competition," said MHC Coach Leroy Laramore of the North County Boxing Club. For the 60 pound Morgan, it was his first time in the ring.

MHC's other sub-novice fighter, Dennis Doherty, lost a decision to Gary Ware of the North County Boxing Club.

Two novice and one open fighter took to the ring for MHC following the sub-novice fights. At 120 pounds, Steve Ganchett defeated Steve Miller, a former Golden Gloves champion.

"I thought it was a pretty close fight," said MHC Coach Merce Menzoza. "Very competitive. I think Steve won the fight in the third round, kept pressuring him, wearing him down."

Unfortunately, however, the final two MHC novice boxers didn't fare as well as Ganchett.

At 147 pounds, MHC's Chip Hagnauer lost a split decision to Pat Kellef of the ABC Boxing Club of St. Louis.

"I thought Chip's fight was one of the best of the night," Mendoza said.

"He's got an excellent jab and his right is beginning to come around as well."

The final MHC boxer to take the ring was Dan Mendoza, a 140 pound open. Mendoza battled Harvey Richards of the Springfield, Ill. Boxing Club for three rounds before referees decided the match in Richards' favor.

The tall, lanky Richards used his reach to keep Mendoza away while landing some good combinations. Coach Mendoza said,

"Danny seemed a little rusty,"

Mendoza said. "Not because he hasn't been practicing, but because he's been away from the ring for so long."

"He needs to condition himself again. You really need to see an actual fight to keep sharp."

To help keep his boxers sharp,

Coach Mendoza has scheduled an MHC Boxing Show for next Friday, Nov. 18 at 8 p.m. at the Washington Theater.

Mendoza hopes to card eight or nine local boys for action Friday night in addition to possible hopefuls from the Springfield Boxing Club. In all, 12 bouts are tentatively scheduled.

Tickets for the event will be $4 for adults and $2 for children.

A Sports Special

Linhart's earning a place on WIU's gridiron

By ROGER KRAMER

of the Press-Record

Granite City High School sophomore John Linhart is finding himself as part of the youth movement at Western Illinois University, and he's enjoying every minute of it.

Linhart, a freshman for the Leathernecks, led the Western junior varsity team to a 3-1 record and was the backup to junior quarterback Mark Bloom through Oct. 29.

However, Bloom suffered an ankle injury during the Oct. 29 game with Illinois State, and Linhart took over and completed 11 of 13 attempts for 71 yards. When Western head coach Bruce Craddock found out Bloom would be lost for the season, he gave Linhart the chance to start his first collegiate football game last week.

Although Western's Samuels' start was delayed by Michigan 47-14, Linhart had an admirable game in his first start. Linhart completed 21 of 43 passes for 216 yards. As a varsity quarterback, Linhart has completed 27 of 56 attempts for 302 yards, two touchdowns and only two interceptions.

As a result, Linhart will also start the season finale at Winona State University in Winona, Minn., Saturday.

Linhart and his teammates are part of a youth movement by Craddock, Western's first-year coach. Western is only 3-7 this season, but Craddock contends the lumps the Leathernecks have taken will pay off for the team in the long run.

"With only 17 seniors this year, we had an inherent job of rebuilding," Craddock said. "We wanted to go with freshmen to building the program, and I think Linhart can do those people want to build the program with. We want to build a program, not a one-shot team."

When Craddock took over, the Leathernecks had to learn the game again. He thought the job was going to be low at Western. He thought the abilities of the coaching staff was low. And he thought the gridiron and classroom attitudes of the players were low.

"Now we're having the same problems of the Chicago Bears or the St. Louis Cardinals. We were too inconsistent in the past," Craddock said.

Craddock then searched for players with similar attitudes as Linhart. Linhart, who graduated from South in 1981, had a 4.4 average on a 5.0 scale and who passed for 1,206 yards his senior year, was an ideal pick for Craddock.

"That's why we went for John. We wanted to give him a job, so he could give us some stability and continuity. You can't have continuity if you're going to see different faces every year," Craddock said.

Craddock then searched for players with similar attitudes as Linhart. Linhart, who graduated from South in 1981, had a 4.4 average on a 5.0 scale and who passed for 1,206 yards his senior year, was an ideal pick for Craddock.

Linhart found the college game to be much more demanding for him. Even though Linhart was the starting quarterback for three South seasons with a combined record of 1-26, he found out things were even tougher at the college level.

"It was like starting all over," Linhart said. "Every team plays a different defense. In high school, we only had to go against two or three different defenses. In college, we have to face a whole lot more."

Besides Linhart's junior varsity experience, Linhart played during the earlier years. However, the time he played convinced Linhart he could handle the starting position.

"I was a little nervous the first few times I was out there, and I was nervous when Bloom got hurt. I tried to stay in. I didn't feel any pressure starting last week because I had a little bit of game experience," Linhart said.

Although Linhart was on the losing end of the starting assignment, Craddock was encouraged by Linhart's debut.

"John did a tremendous job. He had a fantastic game and he's starting again this week. He's been our number one backup all year. He has a lot of talent. He was a coach in high school. He's going to be a fantastic player for us the next three years," Craddock said.

Linhart found the college game to be much more demanding for him. Even though Linhart was the starting quarterback for three South seasons with a combined record of 1-26, he found out things were even tougher at the college level.

"It was like starting all over," Linhart said. "Every team plays a different defense. In high school, we only had to go against two or three different defenses. In college, we have to face a whole lot more."

Craddock didn't mind taking the chance with freshman even though Western has taken the knocks this season. Last season, Western was 2-8, so this season could already be an improvement on the record.

Craddock had a 24-19 record in four seasons at Northwest Missouri, including a 15-6 record his final two years. Last season, his Northwest Missouri team went to the NCAA Division II playoffs.

Linhart believes he and the Leathernecks will continue to improve in the next few years. He realizes the task will be difficult, but he thinks the team has the desire to work for improvement.

"I think we have a lot of potential. If we all work hard during the winter and spring, I think we can become an excellent team. We just haven't used all of our talent yet," Linhart said.

"I have a lot of learning to do, but I think it will be easier going into them on a winning note. We want to win the starting position next year that's what I've been trying for, and I hope I can do it," Linhart said.

Linhart thinks a victory in the season finale will help the Western program next year.

"It would be a nice end of the season if we can make it," Linhart said.

"I think it will make it easier and give us a better chance going into them on a winning note. We want to win it for the few seniors who are on the team."

Cougars waiting for playoff berth

EDWARDSVILLE — There is nothing more the soccer Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville can do but sit back and wait, hoping for a phone call Sunday from the YMCA selection committee informing them of their 15th consecutive berth in the post-season tournament.

The Cougars, who have never failed to reach the NCAA's post-season play-offs, concluded the regular portion of their 1983 season last weekend by sweeping the U.S. Air Force Academy (3-2) and Creighton University (4-1). With the victories, the Cougars will submit their 8-6-2 record to the national committee.

Friday, again in the third-ranked tournament at Midway Regional, Air Force, the Cougars broke open a 1-1 deadlock at halftime with Dan Malloy's second goal of the game and game-winner by Tim Loughman at 10 minutes of the second half.

Again Sunday, Dan Malloy got the Cougars on the scoreboard against Creighton as he took a centering pass from Granite City's Steve Tritsch and beat goalkeeper Jim Dalla Riva at the 19-minute mark for the only score of the first half.

Last year, after posting a 13-3 regular-season record, the Cougars went on to win the NCAA-I Midwest Regional with a 1-0 victory over North Texas State. They also defeated the University of San Francisco in the semifinals of the conference championship before losing in a 1-0 semifinal round contest at the University of Indiana.

In singles competition, Doug Burke finished second in first flight competition behind Minnesota's Stefan Eriksson. Eriksson defeated the Cougar 6-3, 6-1 to claim the title.

In doubles competition, the SIUE duo of Kwon and Peter Moore finished first in second doubles with a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Clemson's second doubles team.

In first doubles, Johan Sjogen and Delsen finished third in first singles while SIUE's Joe Vassen and Mory Oppenheim finished second in third doubles.

In singles competition, Doug Burke finished second in first flight competition behind Minnesota's Stefan Eriksson. Eriksson defeated the Cougar 6-3, 6-1 to claim the title.

Kwon defeated Wisconsin's Peter Kolarik in third flight competition 6-4, 6-4, to secure that title. Delsen defeated Wisconsin's Tom Klein 6-3, 6-4 to win the sixth flight singles title.

These rooms will be available on a no-fee basis to all organizations who qualify.

Rooms will be issued to organizations on a first-come, first-served basis. Qualified organizations will not be charged for the use of these rooms.

For further information, persons should contact the Tri-City Area YMCA at 876-7200.

FCA hoop game to benefit needy

The Madison Senior High Fellowship of Christian Athletes along with the Madison Middle School Huddle and FCA is sponsoring their Second Annual Charity Benefit Basketball Game for needy families of Madison.

This benefit will be held on Nov. 18 at the Madison Senior High gymnasium from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Last year over 350 cans were collected and 30 food baskets were given out. This year we hope to equal these figures and surpass them.

The FCA is asking that the donations be brought in the form of can-goods. Two cans for students and three cans for adults. These can-goods will be distributed to needy families throughout the community.

Larry Graham and his basketball team has agreed to put on a demonstration basketball game, the juniors vs. the seniors.

The preliminary game will feature the Madison Middle School seventh vs. eighth grade girls for a half, Middle school faculty vs. FCA basketball team for a half.

Mark Jiles and Charles Steptoe are sponsors for the Madison Senior High School Huddle. Albert Collins is the sponsor for the Madison Middle School Huddle.

Madison Community District 12 administrators, principals and the district social worker will select the names of the needy families. Persons known to be needy families may apply. Dan Kostenski, principal Madison Senior High School, 876-7010 by Nov. 18.

There will be three turkeys given away at half time of the second game as a door prize.

Church Calendar

65th year for 'Mission Behind Mill'

The annual Thanksgiving praise and prayer service at the Gospel Mission, 2014 E. 20th St., scheduled at 7 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 13, will celebrate the mission's 65th anniversary in the community.

A special program of music and speakers is planned and the public is invited to attend.

The mission has been the life work of Mrs. Michael J. Davis, who is now 87 years old.

Upon first moving to Granite City in 1918, Mrs. Davis discovered there was no church or Sunday school for those living "behind the mill."

Concerned about the religious education of the children in that community, she and her husband initiated Sunday afternoon Bible story sessions in their home.

In 1918, six small boys and girls attended the first Sunday school the Davis home. Two Sundays later the attendance had increased to 35 and by Christmastime, a total of 175 children and young people was coming to service.

The response by the children was so overwhelming that the Board of Education offered the use of Liberty School as a meeting place, and for 18 years the school continued to be used for church programs.

In 1930, when it was decided to have evening services for the adults, the mission moved into a structure of its own.

The Pastor Building at 20th and Omaha Streets was rented for this purpose and 12 adults and 60 youngsters attended the first service.

In July 1946, the Gospel Mission moved to its own building, which it presently occupies.

During its 65 years of service in the community, the mission has offered a variety of activities. In the early years of Americanization classes were made available, including lessons in English which were helpful to the European immigrants in the "behind the mill" neighborhood.

Vacation Bible School attracted as many as 150 youngsters and the mission's Sunday school enrollment averaged 200 children for many years.

Although the neighborhood population has dwindled with the years, the mission has continued to offer its annual religious program and its membership now comes from the entire Granite City area.

The evening services each week feature guest ministers from many denominations and, in spite of the travel involved, guest speakers travel here on a regular basis from St. Louis, Belleville and Glen Carbon.

The spiritual commitment of the mission's founder, Mrs. Davis, its members and the visiting speakers will be celebrated at Sunday afternoon's service.

Mrs. Davis said it is difficult to calculate the number of individuals and families the Gospel Mission has touched and influenced throughout its 65-year history.

Nearly every church in the community has members who were baptized and converted at the mission altar, or attended services at the mission. "Mission Behind the Mill" at some point in their lives, the founder said.

All former members and friends are being invited to join with the current members and help celebrate the 65th anniversary Sunday afternoon.

Church woman departed today for Causeway for Peace junket

Mrs. Nona Corzilius, president of the Quad-City Church Women United, departed early this morning on the first leg of her journey as a representative of the Granite City CWU to Women's Causeway for Peace in the Caribbean.

She traveled by plane to New York, where she will join 35 women in the United States selected by CWU to participate in the 12-day trip.

They will proceed to the United Nations for special instructions and will be resourced by a member of the CWU staff and a Jamaican native to the country to be visited.

The entire group will leave for Miami, Fla., where they will be divided into three teams and then travel to each designated island.

Mrs. Corzilius is scheduled to remain in the Dominican Republic of Jamaica where she will enter into the goals of Church Women United planned in consultation with Caribbean women.

The goals set by the national CWU is to provide the opportunity for women to firsthand experience and hear and experience first hand the economic, political, cultural, religious realities of the Caribbean people and, in particular, to examine the result of current U.S. policy in the region, and to enable women to learn and mobilize their networks to work for peace in the Caribbean region.

The Causeway for Peace program will be resourced by people from the region and will observe a range of situations. The delegation will meet with government officials, representative of the private sector, religious leaders and community-based groups. The Causeway is being coordinated by CWU state members Mrs. Shirley Clegg and Sister Marjorie Tuite and by Sylvia Talbot, a native of Guyana who serves on the CWU executive committee.

Sylvia Talbot has recently been elected vice moderator of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches.

The main purpose of the American groups will be to share common con-

Luke 4:1 . . . "And Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness."

Jesus went into the wilderness and fasted for forty days. He then was tempted by Satan to prove His Sonship.

He overcame Satan and his temptations by the Word of God. We can do the same.

He states to the Romans in Chapter 8, Verse 14, "For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

Christ was led by the Spirit. We too must be led by the Spirit. Knowing we are led by the Spirit gives us courage and confidence in every temptation. He is with us. He will never leave us or forsake us.

Let Him lead your life. Today.

State moves toward waste compact approved today by the House, 80-21, include:

"The member states must choose a new host state for storage after the first 20 years." The bill, as originally written, leaves open the possibility that the original host state might have to function as host indefinitely.

"The host state would have the latitude of establishing fees paid by member states for waste storage. Originally, the member states would set fees with no veto power on the part of the host."

"All states in the compact, not just the host state, must share in the liability of any accident." The original legislation left open the possibility that only the host would be responsible for an accident at the waste storage facility or during transport.

Vadalabene said amendments added to the initial legislation provide a safety valve for Illinois should the state choose to join such a multistate group.

Without approval of the legislation, Illinois' only other option would have been to "go it alone," Vadalabene said, and store the state's own waste. Federal law now requires states to either join a compact or begin storing their own low-level wastes by January 1986.

The governor has assured Sen. Vadalabene that he will sign the legislation as amended.

Post Corp. earns 56 cents per share in quarter

Post Corporation earned $1,025,000 or 56 cents per share in the Third Quarter, compared with $459,000 or 25 cents per share a year ago.

For the first nine months of 1983, the communications company's profit stands at $3,100,000 or $1.71 per share, compared with $1,900,000 or $1.04 per share last year.

A spokesman said all three of the firm's operating divisions—newspapers, broadcasting and commercial printing did better than last year with the prime reason for the increase in earnings coming from the newspaper division.

Corporate expenses, including net interest costs, were little changed from a year ago.

Post Corporation owns and operates newspapers, TV and radio stations and commercial printing plants in nine states. Among its properties is the Post-Standard, Oneida, N.Y., which it said had signed an agreement in principle to be acquired by Gillett Communications, Inc., Nashville, Tenn., and last month the two companies signed a definitive agreement. The transaction will be approved by Post's directors and shareholders and by the Federal Communications Commission.

Letters can be written all over the world in Esperanto

By SANDY HAAS

A professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville contends that the average person can write letters to others in other countries all over the world after taking the professor's one-semester course in the international language, Esperanto.

Ronald Grossop, professor of philosophical studies in the School of Humanities, said Esperanto is an artificially designed language, scientifically designed to do a special job—the job of international communication.

The World Esperanto Association has members in China, Japan, the USSR, France, Italy, Brazil, and 77 other countries according to Grossop. "Esperanto is a language that will give the average person access to knowledge of worldwide customs, attitudes and thoughts. With Esperanto writers may correspond directly with people from themselves around the world and learn how they really live," he said.

"It is exciting to receive a letter from someone in Peking and to be able to write them back. You are able to understand each other better because of common language," Esperanto, Grossop explained.

Grossop became interested in Esperanto because he felt a "need for a sense of being part of the world community," an idea he emphasizes in another course he teaches at SIUE, The Problems of War and Peace. "One thing that keeps us from being sensitive to our membership in a global community is the absence of a common language," he said.

Many people in America and England say that English should become the international language," Grossop said. "This is a rather selfish view and highly unpopular in many other countries. English is not often taught in foreign schools or in other countries to use it for their second language. The use of English as the international language also conveys a sense of cultural imperialism. Other countries feel that it is unfair for English-speaking people to use their own language and expect everyone else to learn English as their second language."

"Esperanto solves the problems associated with the use of English as the international language," he said.

First of all, Esperanto is designed so that it can be learned quickly, in a fraction of the time required to learn a foreign language, according to Grossop. The spelling is easy, being based on the principles of one word, one sound. The grammar is easy; there are only 16 rules, with no exceptions to the rules (not at all like English).

The second advantage of using Esperanto as the international language is that it is neutral. It is not the property of any one nation, group of nations, or social class. It belongs to everyone. It has no political or historical implications or associations. This fact promotes a friendly attitude and a spirit of community which is quite impressive to everyone who has seen the language in use, Grossop explained.

At an age when international communication is so essential to world peace and understanding, as well as commerce, it is a time to recognize the importance for the use of Esperanto as the international language," he said.

"Learning Esperanto can be an aid to students who are interested in communicating with people all over the world. It can also serve as an introduction to the study of other languages," Grossop said.

Esperanto classes will be offered for four elective hour credits during the coming winter and spring quarters. Winter quarter, it will be listed as Humanities 3108, and spring quarter as Humanities 3109. A review course in the basics of Esperanto will be offered early day afternoons during winter quarter.

For further information, interested persons may call Grossop at 1-692-3376 or leave a message at 1-692-2250.

Miss Ude receives award

Dana Ude, a member of the Flying Dutchmen at Belleville Area College, received the top female pilot award at the Region 8 Airplane meet at Hartsfield Field in Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 14 and 15.

She has received her private pilot license and is working on her commercial pilot license. She also received trophies for placing second in accuracy landing, fifth in power of accuracy landing, and eighth in power on accuracy landing.

The top female pilot award makes her eligible for the national competition in Colorado Springs. "This was the first time I ever competed," she said. "I'm really excited about going to Colorado in May."

The 20-year-old sophomore from Millstadt said her ambition is to be a corporate pilot. She flew a Cessna 152, a two-seater, for the competition.

Flying Dutchmen Keith Cook, also brought a trophy home from the meet. He placed fourth in power on accuracy landings. The trophies are on display at BAC's offices at St. Louis Airport.

Department of Commerce and Community Affairs Director Michael T. Wiesfeller announced the selection of a high-technology scholarship program for economically disadvantaged students. Local participants in the program are Lewis and Clark Community College and Belleville Area Community College.

For the 1983-84 academic year, a total of $300,000 is available to help offset costs of study in the fields of computer science, electronics, engineering, medicine and other high-technology areas.

"Since the program began last year, nearly 350 students have taken advantage of this opportunity to defray the costs of courses or living expenses at 19 community colleges in Illinois," said Wiesfeller.

Funds are disbursed directly to the colleges, then presented by check to each student. The colleges are responsible for co-selection of the students and for finding additional financial assistance while community action agencies are responsible for identification of candidates, co-selection of students and provision of support services.

During the fall term, $150,000 is available from the federal Community Services Block Grant Pro-

Street lighting tax hike loses

A proposal to increase the maximum tax rate for street lighting purposes was defeated, 83 no votes to 63 yes in Tuesday's election.

The Miracle Manor-Bellemeade Place Street Light District had proposed a tax increase to increase the limit on its annual tax rate for each $100 assessed valuation by 9½ cents, from 12½ to 22 cents.

The lighting district has encountered financial problems in recent years.

In an appeal to residents within its boundaries, the district this fall cited a need to expand the amount of revenue it receives from real estate taxes. The negative vote will make it necessary to consider other alternatives.
